Frank E. Langley, Publisher.

Entered at the Postoffice at Barre as Second Class Matter.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 30, 1905.

The average daily circulation of the Barre Daily Times for the week ending Saturday was

3,885

copies, the largest paid circulation of any daily paper in this section.

The January thaw was ahead of time.

There is a concert of colleges against foot ball, but there is much discord apparent.

Alas and alack, James Hazen Hyde, we are weary, too, and can sympathize with you.

If the coasting accidents continue there will be a call for the destruction of the sled, a la foot ball.

There will be a good many people who will write it 1905 when they get down to their offices next week.

A year ago Barre would have been directly interested in the H. R. Leighton & Co. failure. Now Barre is happily an onlooker.

A physician finds himself in delicate situations now and then. A Burlington medico is sued on the ground that he advised a young man against an operation. Will not this drive them to perform operations, necessary or not?

That the State Laboratory of Hygiene is growing in influence is shown by the increased number of examinations made in the year just closing, over previous years. The people of the state are learning that the laboratory was intended for the use of the public. Undoubtedly much good is being done through the information disseminated therefrom.

RESOLVED—

The period of new resolutions is at hand. It is the time when the man swears with Mark Twain that he will not smoke more than one cigar at one and the same instant. It is the period when the housewife mildly asseverates that she will feed her lord and master no more leaden biscuits. It is the time when the coy maiden, with qualms at her heart, decides that she will lead a merry chase with not more than half a dozen eager young men. The young men also decide that they will be first fiddle or none. It is that season of the year when the youngster forswears the joy of skipping school. In short, it is quite proper to make new and good resolutions provided you are in the mood for them. Among the resolutions which might well be made in Barre is not to hold an indoor fair, bazaar, and whatnot of the same sort.

The fact is, the fair business in Barre is overdone. At the present time we recall but one church society which failed to indulge this fall in this mild commercial dissipation. And we recall, too, that various and sundry fraternal organizations have been swept into the vortex of the fair fads and this year branched out. The total number of fairs we have not figured up, but are willing to stake a guess that it would reach a very respectable number. From late summer to early winter it has been fair time if not fair weather. And one wonders at the success of all of them. But they were successful, every one of them, which is the most surprising thing about it. Not a single organization—church, fraternal order or whatever it be—failed to rake in the shekels. As a money-getter the fair is a wonder, but the idea is so overworked that the edges are getting frayed. We wouldn't protest against the getting of money, not that. But the method of getting it might possibly be changed. Is not there a fertile brain which can figure out the proposition so that we shall have the influx of the coin with a different rake appliance?

It would be a splendid resolution to resolve to try something different. Shall we not say fair-well?

A MATCH.

If you were Edith Wharton,
And I were Bernard Shaw,
We'd soar through mystic mazes.
Of super-subtle phrases;
The subjects we'd extort on Would fill the world with awe.
If you were Edith Wharton,
And I were Bernard Shaw,

If you were Henrik Ibsen,
And I were Maeterlinck,
We'd cut, like halos on curls,
Our wisdom teeth on morals; We'd write sardonic squibs in Vituperative ink.
If you were Henrik Ibsen,
And I were Maeterlinck,

If you were Lyof Tolstoi,
And I were Turgeneff,
We'd write the queerest novels
About high jinks in hoveles;
A man who was a doll's toy
A hero held in feoff.
If you were Lyof Tolstoi,
And I were Turgeneff,

If you were Rudyard Kipling,
And I were Conan Doyle,
We'd watch with eyes a-dancing,
Our verbal rates advancing;
And ever we'd be tripling
Our hoard of golden spoils.
If you were Rudyard Kipling,
And I were Conan Doyle,

Our Farming Area.
It is estimated that the total area for farming purposes in the United States is 841,000,000 acres, an area larger than England, Scotland, Ireland, Wales, France, Germany, Austria, Spain, Japan and the Transvaal.

JINGLES AND JESTS.

A Chance For Inventors.
Inventive power's something grand.
Men study night and day On plans to use byproducts, and They make their ideas pay.
Some way I hope they'll soon propose—
"Twirl poor men all antheses—
To take the shine from off one's clothes And put it on one's shoes."
—Judge.

An Admission.
"Have you read the 'Last Days of Pompeii'?" asked the man who likes old time novels.
"No," answered Mrs. Cumcox, with a charming air of confident frankness;
"to tell the truth, I haven't even read the first ones."—Washington Star.

Safe.
"Pop, fish are biting up the creek,"
Said wistful Willie Blue.
"Well," Farmer Blue said, "if you stick To work they can't bite you."
—Philadelphia Ledger.

Stung!
Irate Passenger (as train is moving off)—Why the blank didn't you put my luggage in as I told you, you blankety blank?
Porter—Eh, mon, yer luggage is na sic a fule as yersel'. Yer I'm the wrong train.—Pick-Me-Up.

Strictly In It.
A young man named Thomas O'Farrell Laid aside all his wearing apparel
To go swimming one day.
A tramp came that way—
And Thomas went home in a barrel.
—Chicago News.

An Angler.
Miss Gabbie—No, indeed, I'm not accustomed to fish for compliments.
Miss Pepprey—I can see that. Any one who is accustomed to fishing realizes that one isn't likely to get anything if one talks too much.—Philadelphia Press.

Sees Everything.
The pert and prying, proud old maid Whose many wrinkles are displayed
Is always, so the gossip tell,
In spite of features, looking well.
—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A Happy Investment.
"Have you heard what Sharpe gave his mother-in-law for a birthday present?"
"No. What?"
"An automobile. She's so delighted with it she's off touring all the time."
—Judge.

The Proper Place.
A daring thief Jack wrought last night
On darling little Rose.
He stole the thing he wanted right Beneath her very nose.
—Philadelphia Ledger.

Failed to Convince Willie.
"You should be like the chickens, Willie; just see how early they wake up in the morning."
"Oh, well, I could wake up early, too, ma, if I stood up all night!"—Yonkers Statesman.

An Argument.
Mamma—Didn't I tell you, Willie, that you were not to go out in a canoe?

Willie—But, mamma, the man told me that was one of the best ways in the world to learn how to swim.—Town and Country.

A Clock.
There is one kind of hunter
Who's sure to slay his game—
The man that's hunting trouble Will always find the same.
—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

"Wearing of the Green."
"Wearing of the Green" exists in several forms and versions. The one best known in this country was written by Dion Boucicault. It is sung by Shaun the Post in the play "Arrah na Pogue."

The Nautilus.
The almighty compartment theory of building ships was copied from a provision of nature shown in the case of the nautilus. The shell of this animal has forty or fifty compartments, into which air or water may be admitted, to allow the occupant to sink or float as he pleases.

The Feast of Liberty.
"The Feast of Liberty" was a grand festival held by the Athenians once in every five years to commemorate the victory at Salamis. It was always celebrated on the battlefield of Plataea.

The Condor.
The condor, the largest bird of prey, can devour a full grown calf inside of thirty hours, eating at intervals of three hours until it is gorged. Its flight then is slow and difficult until it has gained a height of 200 yards by gliding up and down aerial planes. The condor can then hover on the wing and float for half an hour in circles without moving a feather.

IT SEEMS LIKE A GOLD BRICK

Perhaps too good to be true, you might say, if it didn't come from this store. We really do work the confidence game, however, but it's in the way of telling things just as they are, using everyone alike, etc., and it has done wonders for us.
But to get back to the gold brick story again. Our Saturday sale this week would almost seem like a bunco game, the prices are so ridiculously low. Any way you are a mind to figure it, they are priced here at less than cost to us.
